01 Executive Intelligence Verdict

Competitive Disadvantage Identified

Competitors currently control important customer questions, narratives, visibility channels, or buying decisions that should be addressed within the campaign strategy. The strategic position of 'Competitive Disadvantage Identified' is supported by several key data points. The campaign intelligence score is low at 18/100, indicating significant room for improvement in understanding and leveraging market insights. The GEON score of 44/100 further highlights areas of weakness, particularly in visibility and context. Competitive exposure is at a severe level of 100/100, with decision leakage also critical at 100/100, suggesting that competitors are effectively capturing potential customers' attention and decisions. The brand's share of voice is 0%, and it appears in 0% of AI visibility across 120 measured answers, indicating a lack of presence in critical digital spaces. Competitors like Semrush, Frase.io, and Clearscope dominate the market, owning all 14 measured buyer questions outright. These factors collectively underscore the competitive disadvantage currently faced.

02 Executive Summary

GeoRepute is currently at a competitive disadvantage in the market.

The intelligence picture reveals a severe competitive exposure and critical decision leakage, with competitors dominating the market and owning all key buyer questions.

TOP STRATEGIC FINDINGS

- GeoRepute has a campaign intelligence score of 18/100, indicating a need for better market insights.
- The GEON score is 44/100, with weaknesses in visibility (36/100) and context (34/100).
- Competitive exposure and decision leakage are both at 100/100, showing severe market challenges.
- The brand has 0% share of voice and no presence in AI visibility across 120 measured answers.
- Competitors like Semrush, Frase.io, and Clearscope own all 14 measured buyer questions outright.

TOP COMPETITIVE RISKS

- Complete lack of AI visibility and share of voice, leading to missed customer acquisition opportunities.
- Competitors' stronghold on key buyer questions, limiting GeoRepute's market influence.
- Critical decision leakage at 100/100, indicating potential customers are choosing competitors.

TOP MISSED OPPORTUNITIES

- Improving AI visibility to capture a share of the 120 measured answers.
- Enhancing visibility and context scores to strengthen market presence.
- Addressing decision leakage to retain potential customers.

CAMPAIGN IMPLICATIONS

The campaign must focus on increasing visibility and addressing decision leakage by targeting key buyer questions and improving AI presence.

Primary recommendation

Focus on increasing visibility and capturing key buyer questions to reduce decision leakage and improve competitive positioning.

04 AI vs Google Intelligence

GOOGLE STRONG · AI WEAK

0 (0%)

Customers who search find the business; customers who ask an AI assistant are shown someone else. Discovery holds, recommendation leaks.

AI STRONG · GOOGLE WEAK

0 (0%)

AI assistants surface the business but search does not confirm it. Validation stalls because the claim cannot be checked.

INVISIBLE IN BOTH

14 (100%)

The business is absent from both channels — there is no discovery to convert.

ALIGNED AND VISIBLE

0 (0%)

Discovery and validation reinforce each other. These are the positions worth defending.

HOW EACH GAP AFFECTS THE BUYING JOURNEY

GAP	DISCOVERY	VALIDATION	TRUST	COMPARISON	RECOMMENDATION	CAMPAIGN PERFORMANCE
Invisible in both	The business is not discovered on these questions through either channel.	There is nothing to validate — no claim reaches the buyer in the first place.	No trust is being built or lost here; the business is simply not part of the conversation.	Competitors define the comparison set without the business in it.	No recommendation surface exists on these questions.	All demand here must be bought. Campaign spend carries the entire load with no organic support.

Recommendation presence is ranking-based: it counts answers where the brand placed in the top 3 of a ranked or listed response. AI engines do not expose an explicit recommendation flag.

06 Competitor Intelligence

Competitors control the market by owning key buyer questions related to AI SEO and content strategy tools. Their dominance is largely due to their ability to publish content that directly addresses these questions, which GeoRepute has not done.

WHY COMPETITORS APPEAR INSTEAD

Competitors such as Semrush, Frase.io, and Clearscope dominate the market due to their strong visibility and content coverage. They hold uncontested positions in buyer questions related to AI SEO platforms and content strategy tools. Their strength lies in their ability to publish relevant content that answers these buyer questions, which GeoRepute has not addressed.
